

TRRC Support Worker

We have a number of positions available at our Turner River Rehabilitation Centre, South Hedland. The Support worker role requires that you work a roster that includes regular shift and weekend work.

Your genuine passion for helping others and making a difference to our clients' quality of life will be evident in everything you do, as will your ability to empathise and put yourself in their shoes. You will take pride in the quality of support you provide and treat others with dignity and respect across all aspects of your role.

You are resilient. You have a lively and enthusiastic approach. You let your positive personality shine and have a can-do attitude. You always put the needs of others first and go out of your way to make others smile and make their day just a little bit easier and happier. You have excellent communication and interpersonal skills, along with ability to work within a tight-knit team. You must have the availability to work a variety of shifts throughout the week, including weekends and evenings.

Duties include but not limited to:

- Provide support and assistance to AOD specialist/detox workers and clients to support recovery
- Provide direct practical support to clients so that they gain/maintain independent living skills
- Health and wellbeing monitoring
- Escort residents on appointments and social outings as required
- Ensure and monitor safety and security of all premises, staff, clients and property
- Medication monitoring/support medication administration

Essential Requirements;

- Police Clearance
- Working with Children's Check
- Drivers Licence

This is a challenging but very rewarding opportunity and the perfect role for someone with a calm, compassionate personality and a natural ability to build rapport with vulnerable people.
